

Food Safety Policy General

1. Statement of Context

AGSV Member Schools with permanent canteens or temporary food premises, including at sporting events, must ensure compliance with food safety and food handling regulations, including but not limited to:

- having a food safety supervisor with the training, skills and knowledge to ensure that:
 - - all regulations are followed
 - - anyone handling food has the correct training
 - ensuring a food safety program is prepared based on the Department of Human Services template
 - lodging the food safety program with the municipal council at the time of registration and re-registration.

2. Reference Points / Background Papers

- Victorian Food Act 1984
 - Department of Human Services' Food safety program template
 - The AGSV Anaphylaxis Policy

3. Aims

To ensure AGSV activities and events comply with food safety and handling regulations.

4. Policy details

Any member school or external contractor providing food at AGSV events or activities will do so in compliance with food safety and handling regulations

5. Implications for practice

The AGSV will require Member Schools to sign an annual attestation of compliance with this policy (see Appendix 2).
